

---

24th Annual HBCU Faculty Development Network Conference Crystal City, Virginia

Theme: Creating Deep and Lasting Learning
November 2-4, 2017

Focus of 2017 Conference

The 2017 HBCU Faculty Development Conference will focus on creating deep and lasting learning, showcasing some of the best emerging pedagogical practices and support programs that enhance students' academic performance. Additionally, there will be sessions that will enable participants to address disciplinary and interdisciplinary strategies, learning outcomes and current research.

The HBCU Faculty Development Network

For over 20 years, the HBCU Faculty Development Network has provided an avenue for faculty, administrators, and program support personnel to make presentations and to highlight effective teaching and learning as well as those programs that support the academic function at institutions of higher education.

Proposal Submission

We cordially invite you to participate in the 24th Annual HBCU Faculty Development Network Conference to be held November 2-4, 2017 at the Double Tree by Hilton Hotel Washington, D.C. Crystal City. We invite faculty, administrators, and personnel of all areas that support the academic program to submit proposals for consideration at this year's conference that support our theme of Creating Deep and Lasting Learning.

Deadline for Submitting Proposals: May 6, 2017

Click link to submit proposal: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/QFWKNTZ>

Conference proposals should address one of the strands:

- Active Learning and Engagement
- Curriculum Design and Revision
- Learning Across the Curriculum and Learning Communities
- Technology in the Classroom
- Civic Engagement and Social Justice
- Diversity and Globalization
- Assessment, Evaluation and Accreditation
- Faculty Development Programs
- Disciplinary and Interdisciplinary Topics

Conference Duration and Format

The conference offers three full days of workshops, concurrent sessions, round-table discussions, plenary sessions, and a poster session. The conference provides an excellent opportunity for participants to network and exchange ideas proven successful in teaching and learning, network with colleagues, and develop practical skills that can be put to immediate use upon return to their respective institutions. Attendees will take away from this conference, useful information that works and will assist them in enhancing their current role.

For additional information contact
Laurette B. Foster, Executive Director